Dear Cole:

I am once again pleased to recognize the week of June 15-21, 2015 as "Pollinator Week" in the state of Montana.

I commend the efforts of Pollinator Partnership to promote awareness of the importance of pollination and pollinating animals. Pollination is important to the health of our ecosystems, from our national forests to our golden prairies. The stability of our ecosystems is essential to the continued success of farmers and ranchers in Montana. It is important that Montanans protect pollinating animals, such as bees, birds, butterflies, bats, and beetles, so that our diverse ecosystems may continue to thrive.

I encourage all Montanans to recognize June 15-21, 2015 as "Pollinator Week."

Sincerely,
